Exultantly

The Lord will usher Zion forth, redeeming Israel.
The Lord redeems His people soon, and Satan will be bound.
The earth so long sustains, travails, and brings her strength in trial.
We glorify our God in song, whose honor elevates.

By faith and covenants on earth, His people will prevail.
No time will rush as we commune in one eternal round.
Her urge to swell the truth she veils makes heaven ever smile.
His power draws so we belong within His holy state.

Made wise through testimonies sure, His people know their guide,
The Lord will gather as the same the Zion from above
The Lord will clothe in glory earth, for she upholds His feet,
We praise His mercy, justice, grace, and truth He fully holds.

Receiving truth the Spirit pours, that day we will abide.
To meet the pure in heart who claim below His work of love.
And gives the ground for new life's birth as Christ makes all complete.
We thank our God, for peace has place for ever in His fold.
