January 1990

Here Lies the Precious Babe (Paradox) - Mixed Choir
Here Lies the Precious Babe (Paradox)
Christmas Carol for SATB Choir and Piano

Words by Angelus Silesius

Music by Keith D Rowley

\[ \text{\textit{d} = 72} \]

lies the precious Babe, first fruit of virgin's womb, Angels delight and joy, men's highest price and boon, Should He your Savior be and lift you into God, Then, man, stay near the crib and make it your abode.

a little faster

How simple we must grow! How simple they, who came! The shepherds looked at God. Long before any man.
He sees God never more not there, nor here on earth Who does not long within to be a shepherd first. All

Tempo I

Things are now reversed: the castle's in the cave, The Crib becomes the throne, the night brings forth the day, The virgin bears a child; O man! reflect and say That heart and mind must be reversed in ev'ry way, reversed in ev'ry way.